November 2013

Notes from the Chair

---

Thanks to all that came to the Sunday Fun Dance on Oct. 13 and stayed around to help clean up.

And thanks to all of you who came and supported the Harvest Holiday Autumn Rounds, Phase 2-4, at Swingtime Center on Sunday, Sept. 29. Everyone who came had a good long fun afternoon of dancing. Special thanks to Christine and Theron Hixson for organizing this dance.

Our next regular Sunday Fun Dance will be on Sunday, Nov. 10. We will have a Harvest Holiday business meeting prior to the November 10 Fun Dance to put the final preparations together for the Festival. See you there!

Harvest Holiday Pre-Festival – Free Teaches Tues / Wed / Thurs

Have you thought about attending the pre-festival teaches for Harvest Holiday? The dances are free in the early part of the week as are the nightly dances which start Monday. All dances will be held at the Sterling Hotel in Dallas in the top floor ballroom. This is a change from previous years.

The schedule for the free impromptu teaches during the pre-festival activities has tentatively been set, and we have a great mixture of dance rhythms and talented instructors. These dance teaches are open to all dancers whether you are attending Harvest Holiday or not. The morning teach begins at 10:00 a.m. with a break for lunch and the afternoon teach begins at 2:00 p.m. each day, Tuesday through Thursday.

Harvest Holiday Newsletter Editor Wanted

After two years, it's time to turn over the newsletter editor position to someone new. What is great about this job is you just have to have an interest in doing a newsletter. You don't have to attend all or even any of the dances. Information on the Dances Cued and the Record of the Day can be sent to you electronically. The primary requirement is being interested in helping Harvest Holiday.

Currently the newsletter is done in Microsoft Word and over the last few months, the format has been streamlined so that anyone with minimum Word skills can produce the newsletter.

If you are interested, contact either Steve Davis, the incoming Chairman or if you have questions, call Linda Pelton at 972-897-6006. Harvest Holiday would appreciate the help.
